Poverty Boards To Meet

Two meetings have been scheduled for next week by officials of Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., at which time decisions affecting the controversial anti-poverty operation here will be discussed.

Richard Adams, Warrens-burg, president of the area board of directors of MMCAC. has announced that the next meeting of the area board will be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 16, at the Sedalia office.

The agenda for the meeting includes a brief summary of project directors' reports, and several items which have been the object of recent controversy

According to Adams, action will be taken regarding the suspension of Charles L. Estill, project director of the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Discussion of the possible merger of the local Community Action Agency with another similar unit is also on the agenda. Also scheduled is a discussion of moving the area office from Sedalia to Lincoln, and action regarding new areawide personnel positions.

Ralph Lee, president of the Pettis County board of MMCAC, has requested the attendance of Pettis County officials at a special board meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 17, at the Farm and Home Building.

Lee has requested the attendance of the Pettis County Court, Mayor Ralph Walker and the Sedalia City Council, Pettis County CAP board members, and the area board members of the MMCAC.

In his letter, Lee says that, We will discuss the problems facing the Pettis County Community Action Board as these problems in turn affect the entire MMCAC."

County Board Of Education Opposes Plan

The Pettis County Board of Education met at the courthouse Thursday, and went on record in unanimous opposition to the Missouri school district reorganization's plan to establish regional school districts throughout the state.

The board, of which Jerry Iuchs of Sedalia is chairman, made its decision after studying the full report on the plan, which has been submitted to the State Board of Education. The plan, according to State Rep. James I. Spainhower, Marshall, is to "equalize educational opportunities for all Missouri children."

Copies of the full recommendation, as presened to the state board, were obtained through the West Central Missouri School Superintendents Association. County Superintendent of Schools George Thompson and Sedalia Superintendent of Schools Dr. T. J. Norris have a copy of the

Heavy Bombers Hit Enemy Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers made their heaviest attacks in two months during the past 48 hours, striking at enemy troops north of Saigon amid strong indications today that the Communist command is preparing a new offensive

More than 100 of the big highaltitude bombers dropped 3,000 tons of explosives from noon Wednesday to noon today. A U.S. spokesman said it was the heaviest B52 effort since mid-October.

Reports from field commanders said there are strong indications that the North Vietnamese are preparing thrusts into key areas leading toward Saigon. But no significant ground fight was reported anywhere today.

In the latest B52 missions Thursday night and today waves of the eight-jet Stratofortresses blasted base camps, bunkers, supply depots and infiltration corridors, and maneuvering troops.

Aerial observers reported one strike set off 11 secondary explosions, indicating direct hits on ammunition stores.

The raids were in an umbrella pattern stretching from jungle infiltration routes 75 miles northwest of Saigon to within 27 miles northeast of the capital.

U.S. intelligence sources say 15,000 to 25,000 North Vietnamese troops, and perhaps even 30,000 are deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border in the arc.

Two Table Compromise To Be Offered to Reds

Six Vietnamese civilians were reported wounded today when a grenade exploded in front of a house under construction in Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon. Authorities said it had not been determined whether the blast was the work of Viet Cong terrorists. They said the house was being built in an alleyway and there reportedly had been a neighborhood dispute about locating it there. Military spokesmen reported nine enemy shellings overnight, the most serious at Sa Dee, a provincial capital in the Mekong Delta 67 miles southwest of Sai-

Few Enter Decorating Competition

Residents in a three-mile radius of Sedalia are being urged to register their decorated homes in the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas home decoration contest as soon as possible. The deadline for registration is Dec.

Registration of homes in the contest are slow in coming in this year, a check with the chamber shows, with only 14 homes registered so far, compared to 25 at the same time last year.

Entries should be telephoned in to the Chamber office, 826-

The contest will be judged Friday evening, Dec. 20. Those entering the contest are being asked to leave their decoration lights on until midnight that ught, so the judges will have plenty of time to check and recheck the homes before making their decisions. The winning home will be awarded a $50 prize, second place $30 and third place $20.

This is an outdoor contest only, thus windows and doors may be decorated from the inside.

Mildred Bowman is chairman of the lighting contest.

Judging will be on a point basis. Points are: Lighting, 10 points; originality, 10 points; theme, 10 points, and over-all appeal, 10 points.

One chamber spokesman expressed the idea that recent acts of vandalism against outdoor Christmas decorations may be one reason for fewer entries this year.

Hong Kong Flu Epidemic Spreading Across Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The spreading Hong Kong flu epidemic has forced the closing of some schools and colleges and raised absenteeism in business and industry.

The new strain of flu has spread from Los Angeleswhere officials say almost 300,000 adults and children are absent from work or school-to New York City where Adelphi University in suburban Garden City canceled undergraduate classes until Jan. 5, saying, "The Hong Kong flu has hit."

The Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point began Christmas vacation eight days early after about half of the 728 midshipmen were stricken.

The National Communicable Disease Center said deaths from pneumonia and influenza have exceeded normal expectations and termed the flu outbreak an epidemic. The center said outbreaks of flu and respiratory diseases from 30 states have been reported, with Hong Kong flu confirmed in 14 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia.

Actress Tallulah Bankhead, 65, died Thursday of pneumonia, which developed after she came down with the flu.

Here's a rundown on what effect the flu has had on some areas of the country

California-Los Angeles county health officials say the epidemic is expected to reach a peak between Dec. 17 and Christmas. Gov. Ronald Reagan's voice is husky and he's coughing frequently. All members of the police department have been immunized. In San Diego, four judges, eight court clerks and five court reporters are out sick. Schools reported absentee rates of 10 to 25 per cent, instead of the normal 5 to 6 per cent.

Michigan-Two Catholic schools in Detroit were closed because of flu and a spokesman for the public school system said 13 per cent of the students were absent Thursday. The normal absenteeism rate is 5 to 10 per cent. Chrysler Corp. reported "a significant increase in absenteeism," and a General Motors Corp. employe said, "You could tell something was wrong. The expressway traffic was too light this morning." Classes at public schools in suburban Livonia, Mich., were canceled after 150 students came down with

as high as normal and warned outpatient services at some hospitals might have to be curtailed. Wheaton College in Wheaton, Ill., said it would close for Christmas vacation Friday -five days early-because of Iowa-Several cases of Hong Kong flu have been confirmed at the University of Iowa in Des Moines and at Parsons College in Fairfield. Dr. Arnold Reeve, chief of the preventable disease division of the state health department, said there was no epidemic yet, but warned the disease could spread when college students went home for college. Massachusetts-College infirmaries are reported filling up, although no schools or colleges are closed. Dr. Nicholas J. Fiumara, director of the state's division of communicable diseases, predicted 30 per cent of the people in the greater Boston area would get the flu when the epidemic reaches its peak-expected around the first of the Nebraska-Spokesmen for the Omaha school district said the number of absent teachers has increased from a normal figure of 80 to 85 to between 110 and 140. Creighton University sus-

Farm Bureau Fights Union Concept

KANSAS CITY (AP) - The American Farm Bureau Federation plans to fight the unionization of farm labor next year with a proposal of its own if Congress shows any inclination to broaden federal labor laws into agriculture.

The legislative strategy was outlined in a policy resolution passed by Farm Bureau delegates at the end of their 50th annual convention Thursday. The Farm Bureau is firmly opposed to any extension of union bargaining laws into agriculture, but indicated that if Congress considers a bill next year the organization will favor a plan removing farm labor bargaining from the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations

Officials said a separate body can be set up-if farm labor legislation is imminent-tailored to "meet the needs of farmers and farm workers.

This alternate plan should include specific prohibition of secondary and product boy-cotts and strikes "which would result in loss of perishable products" turned out by farmers, the resolution said.

It also should protect "the "right of each individual worker" to join or remain out of a union; permit secret balloting by workers, and authorize legal redress of grievances in connection with violations of the Farm Bureau delegates turned down a provision in the labor resolution which would have sought exemption from such legislation for farmers worth of goods annually or employing less than an average of eight workers a year.

marketing less than $100,000

The delegates also rejected an attempt to include in the resolution on federal farm programs a provision for a limitation of $20,000 a year on the amount of government payments made to individual farm-

The limitation proposal was tacked to a resolution seeking gradual elimination of present federal control and subsidy programs through a land-retirement system under which whole farms would be taken from production until agriculture was returned to what the Farm Bureau calls a market-oriented economy

wheat and feed grains areaswhere most of this year's $3,5 billion in direct payments gohelped shout down the limitation proposal.

Speakers against the limita-tion suggested that if Farm Bureau delegates approved such a curb, the public and Congress might interpret the action as approval of current programs if the ceiling were enacted.

Before adjoining, delegates also recommended that the Farm Bureau board of directors consider a number of proposals, including:

Inspect Battleship For Illegal Guns

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) -An agent of the U.S. Treasury Department inspected the weapons aboard the battleship USS Massachusetts Thursday to see whether they violate the new federal gun registration law.

Victor Fazio of the Treasury Department's Boston office examined the artillery aboard the World War II memorial and then said a final decision would have to come from Washington. Apparently someone forgot to register the ship's nine 16-inch and twenty 5-inch guns in compliance with the law. Violations carry a maximum punishment of 10 years imprisonment and fines of $10,000.

Pastor's Comment

MARVIN T. NOBLES

We live in an era of thriving religion. About 60 per cent of the people in our country are affiliated with some religious group. However, there seems to be some doubt among church people as to who they are and what they are doing.

It seems to me that the task of the church is to lead people to become and to be Christian. The goal ought to be for man to live as the image of God in the world. The church has led people to become Christians but not necessarily to be Christian ... how else do we, who live in a "religious" era, (more churches, more people attending services, larger budgets) explain that there is more crime, drunkenness and immorality than ever before?

Some churches are turning to a "social gospel" in an attempt to fulfill their mission through the various social action groups in their community. The great commission of Matthew 28: 19-20, however, tells the church to Go, missions; to Preach. evangelize; to Teach, Christian living; and to Baptize, sign of surrender. When these commands become the real objective of the church, then something will really happen in our world. Man's basic problem is and always has been a sin problem and Jesus Christ is the only answer to the problem. Jesus is the core of the gospel preached by the church, He is the truth taught by the church, and in the name of Jesus Christ the church

It has been said that the church has not spoken and is not speaking to the needs of our day. This simply is not true. The church is speaking and is saying something contemporary and of tremendous value to modern man. But, we find ourselves living in a day such as that described by the Prophet Amos (Amos 8:11), a day of famine. There is famine in our society, not famine of bread or a thrist for water, but a famine of hearing the Word of God.

The church speaks in no uncertain terms but in many cases it has the same difficulty Jesus experienced as the Bible says of Him, "He came unto His own and His own received Him not." (John 1:11). The church is ministering but many are not allowing it to render its full effectiveness because they refuse its teaching. The church should and is leading people to become Christians through faith in Jesus Christ. Now when these people allow Christ to become Lord of their lives they will be Christian, and society will take on a new atmosphere.

"Callers should keep in mind

Vietnam for servicemen.

Spilker pointed out.

Families with relatives stationed in Vietnam were advised today to plan now if they wish to talk with them during the approaching holiday

Jack Spilker, manager for Southwestern Bell, emphasized it is much easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try and reach him in Vietnam.

"That is why servicemen are being encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home particularly around the holidays," Spilker said.

Last week the Bell system announced plans to introduce station-to-station calling between the U.S. and Vietnam, which would save Americans an estimated $121,000 yearly on calls to that country.

Dec. 1. Until a few years ago, all international long distance calls were handled on a person-toperson basis, explained Spilker.

The rate for the first three minutes on a station call is $9, as compared to $12 for the first three minutes on a person-toperson call. Each additional minute is $3.

Spilker said if a call is made to Vietnam, it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he can be reached.

Calls originating in Vietnam are handled on a first-come, first-served basis at various

Pan Am Jet Explodes Over Sea

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) -A Pan American 707 jet exploded over the Caribbean sea and plunged into the water Thursday night 16 miles from Venezuela's international airport north of Caracas.

Fifty-one persons were reported aboard, 42 passengers and a crew of nine, including a trainee stewardess. A search for survivors was continuing, but none was reported.

Officials said it was possible not all the bodies would be re-

Seven bodies were reported recovered before dawn.

A passenger list released by Pan American in New York listed 21 persons from addresses in the United States, but a number of these had Latin names, and it was not immediately known if they had been residing or visiting there.

Another five passengers were listed from addresses in Canada, one was from Italy and one passenger was believed to be from Ireland. The airline listed the other 14 passengers from Venezuela.

The pilot was Capt. Sidney E. Stillwaugh, 50, of West Islip,

Among wreckage recovered were interior cabin fittings and some life rafts that inflate automatically upon contact with wa-

The big jet was ending a nonstop flight from New York to Caracas. The airport control tower said it lost contact after the plane reported its approach one minute before it was due to land at 10 p.m.

"I heard a strong noise and then I saw a red ball fall towards the sea," said a guard at the La Guaira Naval Base, 12 miles north of Caracas.

Other residents near the shore also reported seeing the explosion. The wreckage was reported scattered over a wide area.

Radio Aeropuerto, a commercial station at the airport, said the plane reported it was in trouble before its radio went dead, but an airline spokesman said the pilot radioed the airport only "no maintenance," a routine transmission indicating no service would be required on

The plane had left New York's Kennedy Airport at 4:40 p.m. Among the passengers was Mrs. Olga Antonetti de Dugarte, who had been "Miss Venezuela" in 1962. A resident of New York, she and her 4-year-old daughter were coming to spend Christmas with relatives.

A prominent Venezuelan advertising executive, Luis Beltran Gonzalez was also on the plane returning from a business trip to New York.

The revived center-left alliance slanted further left than any of the three similar coalitions with which Premier Aldo Moro governed Italy for five years, until last June. Rumor, first bachelor premier in modern Italy, was expected to take his government before Parliament next week for a vote of confidence. Under the law he has 11 days, but he was expected to speed that up and get past the hurdle before Christmas. Rumor seems assured of parliamentary approval. His coalition of Christian Democrats, Socialists and Republicans has a comfortable majority.

Formation of the Cabinet ended a political crisis that began when caretaker Premier Giovanni Leone resigned Nov. 19. But formation of the new government had no immediate effect on students demanding radical changes in the universities and workers seeking more money from the current economic boom.

LBJ Asks Business to Help Nixon

DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON - President Johnson talked off the record to the last meeting of the business advisory council, but this column can report in part what he said. The meeting included such moguls of the big business world as James Roche of General Motors, John Harper of Alcoa, Fred Borch of General Electric, Russell De Young of Goodyear, and Paul Austin of Coca-Cola.

"I was flying down to the ranch for Thanksgiving," the President told them, "when we ran into a thunderstorm. I have great confidence in my pilots. They flew me around the world last year in 59 hours. making 16 stops and never more than a minute late.

"On this last trip to the ranch the plane got pretty shaky. My little grandson was bouncing up and down and I thought I would go up to the cockpit to see if there was anything I could do.

"When I looked in, I saw that complicated instrument pnale. The crew's faces were tense. They knew what they were doing. Thye had everything under control. I decided the best place for me was back in my seat.

"It was not unlike being President of the United top business executives of the United States. "He has all the facts on his instrument control board. He has reports from all over the nation and all over the world that nobody else has. He is the best qualified to make decisions.

"I ask you to give the next president the same support you have given me.'

The business executives rose in a prolonged

"It was the best investment the government could have made at that time," says the present Secretary of Commerce, as he nods toward the portrait of Herbert Hoover. "Look at that walnut woodwork. You couldn't get the workmen to duplicate it today.

Herbert Hoover, the man who constructed the building in the days when it was called "Hoover's Folly," made the Commerce Department so famous that it became a springboard to the presidency, but the president who followed him, Franklin D. Roosevelt, battled with business, and the Commerce Department has played second fiddle in government during the 30 years since, until Lyndon Johnson saw advantages of business-government cooperation.

He has appealed to such men as Henry Ford, James Roche and many others to pull an active oar in a partnership between government and business, especially the job training of young Negroes. Today there is a new alliance between business and

"The Eisenhower administration was supposed to be the businessman's administration," says the man whom LBJ persuaded to leave American Airlines to become Secretary of Commerce. "But Johnson is better at getting specific jobs done. We've had great coperation. More and more businessmen have found that we have to pull together to lick our problems, especially the problems of the ghetto.

"They've also found some great people inside government. Our so-called bureaucrats compare favorably with a lot of people in business, perhaps many of them are even better. I've got a young

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Division by Language. - "Men and women are two sexes divided by a common language." "Husband and wife think they are talking about the same thing when they're really not." So says a University of California professor.

We wonder how much scholarly study it took to determine what many husbands could have told the professor was a universally known fact?

Take, as an example, that little word "never." When a wife says to her husband, "you never say that you love me," the husband is apt to take a very masculine view of the accusation and judge the word as expressing eternity, whereas "never" to the wife merely refers to the past half-hour.

Or that little phrase "where did you get it?" Ask a man that question and he'll give you the name of the store. Ask a woman and she's quite likely to say, "why, what's wrong with it?"

Q -A friend of mine works as a car-hop at a drivein. Does she have to pay tax on her tips?

A — Yes, all tips in any amount must be reported on her tax return. And if your friend's cash tips are $20 or more a month while working in one place she must report them to her employer. The employer will then withhold the appropriate amount of tax and Social Security on the tips from her regular wages.

Schools in Financial Peril As Voters Nix Tax Boosts

By BRUCE BIOSSAT NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)

The closing of the public schools in Youngstown, Ohio, from now until Jan. 2 for lack of funds is merely the newest and most dramatic evidence of a growing phenomenon in this nation—the near financial starvation of from 30 to 50 school districts a year.

The cause of Youngstown's closings was the failure by some 1,500 votes of a tax increase proposition at the polls on Nov. 5. It failed chiefly in poorer ethnic wards where the many Catholic citizens who send their children to parochial schools dislike the rising burden of public school total shutdown. Last year Cincinnati and Los Angeles schools felt the money pinch for lack of new levies. At earlier times, Cleveland and St. Louis have been affected. Education officials who now are checking this matter carefully see it as a mounting threat to the continuity of

But Youngstown seems to be unique only in the fact of its schooling for thousands of American children in elementary and secondary grades. One other Ohio town, Perry, a small Lake Erie community, closed its school doors for a month this fall. Six more may have to do the same if voters reject tax increases in impending elections.

Meantime, some city school districts appear to have been living at the edge of starvation for years. Several Delaware communities are in frequent trouble, one having spurned tax increases for nine straight years. The record of steady tax hike rejection is nearly as high in a number of New Jersey places.

In two Alabama counties, tax proposals needed for school maintenance get beaten at the polls regularly.

How do badly pinched school systems meet their financial emergencies? The responses naturally are immensely varied. Los Angeles eliminated foreign language teaching and physical education in the elementary grades, left teacher vacancies unfilled and made classes larger. Cincinnati schools temporarily did away with football and other extracurricular activities. At the next opportunity, voting parents went to the polls and voted the needed extra levies.

Obviously, the larger the school system the more chances there will be for cutting some corners and keeping basic education going. A common practice is to cut maintenance outlays, though this can be costly in the long run if it speeds the deterioration of school properties.

There are instances where individual sets of parents actually are asked to volunteer contributions to help defray maintenance costs. In the two mentioned Alabama counties, the school children sell candies and magazine subscriptions competitively as many do elsewhere to finance senior class trips to Washington or some other place of interest.

Though plainly there are numerous repeaters among the communities which suffer financial malnutrition, authorities in education estimate that perhaps as many as 150 have been affected altogether in recent years and suggest that the proportion will rise among the nation's roughly 22,000 school districts.

Ohio, New Jersey, Delaware, Arizona, California and Oregon comprise only a partial list of the states where voters get occasional or frequent chance to express what appears to be rising resentment against the steady growth of property taxes which undergird the school systems in so much of the nation.

The laws which compel putting the issue before the voting public on a fairly regular basis are complex and varied, and cannot be detailed here. Situations sometimes are special, as when a large industry paying heavy taxes suddenly shuts up shop and leaves town, throwing a heightened burden on remaining taxpayers.

Areas where state aid to schools is a huge budget factor naturally are having the least trouble. But it is notable that in many states education today accounts for 40 to 50 per cent of total annual budget costs.

Hundreds of major school systems still are not near the financial peril point. But the warning signs highlighted by Youngstown are ominously clear.

In one of the later rounds of the national team trials Jeff Westheimer chose to make a slightly unsound twoclub response to Ira Rubin's one-heart opening. Somehow or other he couldn't sign off short of six clubs.

West opened the queen of spades and when Jeff saw the dummy he wished he hadn't bid quite so ambitiously. Then Jeff started to look for a way to bring home his very doubtful contract. He decided that he would have to be lucky in trumps in order to bring it home. Therefore he won the spade lead with the ace, led a club at trick two and finessed dummy's 10.

It held and Jeff was ready to go after 12 tricks. Before you read any further, see if you can figure out how he made the slam after that lucky start.

After the club 10 held he ruffed a low heart in his own hand. Then he led a second club and finessed dummy's jack. Next came the ruff of a second heart and a lead to dummy's ace of diamonds. He ruffed a third heart with his king of trumps, entered dummy with the king of diamonds, cashed dummy's ace of trumps to pull West's queen of trumps and to get rid of another little spade, then he led dummy's nine of dia-monds and made two more diamond tricks when East's jack fell.

He was still left with a low spade but he had his 12 tricks.

This type of play is known as a dummy reversal. Jeff started with five trumps but ruffed hearts with three of them to leave dummy with a long trump. Of course he was lucky but he could have been even luckier. Had hearts divided 4-4 he would have been able to discard one more spade and wind up making a grand slam.

Letter to the Editor

MELVIN TOELLNER (Beaman) - As a Boy Scout it is my duty to inform people about good conservation practices. Today America is facing a problem unlike any she has every faced - that of diminishing resources. Every year, more and more of America's natural resources are being needlessly destroyed. We hear about it but don't do anything Today an American will toss a bit of litter out of his car without a second thought. If he knew how much that bit of litter was costing him I'm sure he wouldn't throw it. Every year millions of dollars are spent cleaning up litter. That one piece thrown out a window might not cost much but think of all the litter other people throw out that you have to pay for. It sure adds up to a lot of expense.

When we go camping or hiking, we often pollute our streams by pouring garbage and cans into them. This foreign matter upsets the balance of nature and often kills many species of wildlife.

Needless cutting of wood and the wasting of other natural resources should be avoided by every American. This wasting and needless use of our resources may someday topple America from its position of power. Then there would be no more woods to camp in and no more pure water to drink.

As a Boy Scout and a fellow American, I want to try to preserve our natural resources. I believe that if other Americans also try to do this, that in the years to come there will be natural resources for all people to enjoy last roundup for the old Hand picker with four big games on the calendar for the final weekend of the regular pro seasons.

If you think the first 99 games between the Chicago Bears and Green Bay were rough, wait until they meet Sunday in No. 100 at Wrigley Field. The Packers are dead but they would like nothing more than to ruin the Bears' bid for the Central Division title.

A Bear victory would send them into a Dec. 22 playoff at Baltimore for the Western Conference title but a loss would let Minnesota get another shot at the Colts, providing they can handle Philadelphia.

If Kansas City wins at Denver Saturday and Oakland wins at San Diego Sunday, they finish in a tie for the West in the AFL,

College football's bowl season opens full blast Saturday when atonement-minded Virginia Tech squares off against explosive Mississippi in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn.-the first of more than a dozen major bowl games during the next four weeks.

Virginia Tech, 7-3, will be trying to avenge its 1966 Liberty Bowl loss to Miami, and possibly present Coach Jerry Claiborne a farewell gift. He's considered a top candidate for coaching vacancies at Kentucky

Mississippi rode the arms and legs of sensational sophomore quarterback Archie Manning to a 6-3-1 mark this season.

'Manning can run and pass, and rolls out with the ball," said Claiborne. "Mississippi has a lot of receivers, and about the time they lull you to sleep with Manning's running and passing they give the ball to Steve Hindman or Bo Bowen . . . and they can Ole Miss boss Johnny Vaught, sending his 12th straight team to a bowl, had almost the same thing to say about his foe. "Virginia Tech hasn't thrown much. They rock you to sleep with power, and then when you're not expecting it they throw the bomb.

Meanwhile, North Dakota State, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' final small college poll, tackles Arkansas State in the Pecan Bowl at Arlington, Tex.—one of four NCAA college division championships to be decided Saturday.

The others are Fresno State. Calif. vs. Humboldt State, Calif. in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.; Louisiana Tech vs. Akron in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn. and Indiana University, Pa. vs. Delaware in the indoor Boardwalk Bowl at Atlantic City, N.J. All four games will be televised regionally (ABC-TV).

POLLY'S POINTERS Several Ways to Wash Plastic Shower Curtains

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY-C. V. R. wanted to know how to clean a plastic shower curtain. I wash mine in the machine along with my white clothes and use bleach in the water. I put them in the dryer for a few minutes, also, along with other clothes. Do watch carefully and do not leave one in too long. I no longer have dirty- or yellow-looking shower curtains and change them often.—VIOLA

DEAR POLLY-I have used the following method for washing a shower curtain for years. Put it in the washing machine with hot water and at least two bath towels. Add one-third cup each of detergent and bleach. Run through the entire cycle but do not allow it to spin dry. Rinse in plain hot water to which you have added a cup of vinegar. Do not rinse the vinegar out. This will NOT work without using the bath towels and may leave some wrinkles in some types of curtains.—S. M.

DEAR READERS—There are shower curtain materials and shower curtain materials so you must try a small spot on any of them before trying any method. Bleach might affect some colored curtains. Some wash the shower curtain and then hang it out of doors, rinse with the hose and then let it drip dry.—POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY-Do you know how to dye Dacron? I tried to dye a Dacron dress fuchsia but it came out a sickly pink.—LANDONIA

DEAR LANDONIA-Directions on the boxes of one of the best-known brands of dye say it is not recommended for Dacron, Orlon, glass or metal fibers.-POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I always want to have so many things at hand before retiring at night that my bedside table was always in disorder. I now have a dress box on the floor under the bed below my pillow. When I get ready for bed, I just pull the box out like a drawer. There is my cream, facial tissues, diary, flashlight, transistor radio with ear phones, note paper, pencil and maybe even a fly swatter or fan. I use what I need and, in the morning, just push the "drawer" back under the bed. No mess, just convenience.-MRS. I. B.

DEAR POLLY—When I was a cheerleader I had to make "Booster Badges" for the students to pin on their clothes. I found that putting the pins in the badges was quite a job so I tried using a skirt marker. It worked beautifully. The pins went in so easily with a double hold and the job took ε lot less time. This idea could be used when making name tags for parties and club meetings.—TARA

Toronto Team Shuts Out Philadelphia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS St. Louis is learning how the other half lives. The expansionist Blues went through 13 National Hockey League games-one full month -between defeats and had the best goals against mark in the league.

But that all changed in 48 hours with the Blues absorbing consecutive losses-the latest a 5-4 decision at Montreal Thursday night.

In Thursday's other NHL action, Toronto shut out Philadelphia 1-0 and Oakland blanked Detroit 6-0.

Despite the 11 goals allowed in two games, the Blues' total of 62 surrendered for the season matches Boston for the league lead.

St. Louis fought the good fight against the Canadiens, battling from behad. But two goals by Henri Richard out Montreal in front to stay.

The Canadiens opened a four-point lead over idle New York and Boston in the East Division race. Craig Cameron scored twice for the Blues, who still lead the West Division by eight points over idle Los Angeles.

The Blues held a 2-1 edge and had just fought off a two-man Montreal advantage when Richard scored the tying goal with seven seconds left in the first period. Then the veteran center scored the go-ahead goal early in the second period and Gilles Tremblay made it 4-2.

St. Louis battled back in the final period but the Canadiens checked the rally and hung on to the victory.

Toronto got airtight goaltending from Johnny Bower and extended Philadelphia's winless string to 10 games. The 44-yearold Bower kicked out 27 shots for his second shutout in eight games this season.

Ron Ellis scored the only goal of the game with four minutes left in the first period after Dave Keon beat Andre Lacroix on a faceoff. Ellis' 25-foot shot flew over Bernie Parent's shoulder for the only goal of the game. It was the fifth time this season the punchless Flyers have been shut out.

Goalie Gary Smith and rookie Norm Ferguson triggered Oakland's blanking of Detroit. Smith chalked up his second shutout in the Seals' last three starts while Ferguson produced a pair of goals in Oakland's four-goal barrage in the second Ted Hampson also contributed a goal and three assists for the Seals, who moved to within a point of second-place Los Angeles in the West Division. The Wings, who lost to Los Angeles Wednesday night, fell deeper into the East Division cellar.

Gary Jarrett and Billy Hicke collected the other goals for the Seals, who drilled 40 shots at Detroit netminder Roger Crozier. The Red Wings had 24 shots on the Oakland goal without success.

Not So Certain Of Swan Song For Willie Davis

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) -The 100th renewal of the National Football League's oldest rivalry was scheduled to be the swan song for Willie Davis. Now he's not sure. "When I went to camp last summer, I really had the feeling that we would win a fourth straight championship," the Green Bay Packer defensive end said. "If we had won, this would have been my last year." The Packers slipped under new Coach Phil Bengtson to a 5-7-1 record, their worst in a decade.

But they still will have a say in who wins the Central Division crown. If Green Bay wins Sunday over Chicago, the title and a Western Conference playoff berth goes to Minnesota if the Vikings beat Philadelphia. If the Packers lose, Chicago will meet the Baltimore Colts.

'We fell short in such a way that it has left a bad taste in my mouth," said Davis, an 11-year veteran from Grambling, La. College.

"If I was convinced that through the draft and off-season trades the club would be better without me, then I might call it quits," Davis said. "I'm not sure right now what I'm going to do.'

Turning to the Packer misfortunes, Davis said it was a multidude of things that led to their dethronement including lack of consistency and injuries. "One thing that hurt us as much as anything was our kicking." Davis said. "If we had had successful kicking early in the season we could have won at least a couple more games. That would have meant we could have won the division title a week ago.

"Injuries hurt us, especially in our defensive line, and Bart (Starr, quarterback) missed almost five games.'

To Surgery For Cancer Of Throat

SEATTLE (AP) — The woman once called the Invincible Mermaid went into surgery for cancer of the throat today at Virginia Mason Hospital.

Helene Madison, now 54 and torn by pain, is the only swimmer ever to hold every available world freestyle record. In her days of glory, 36 years ago, the total was 16.

Helene Madison, afflicted now by diabetes as well as cancer. began swimming at 15 and retired at 19 after the 1932 Olympics, undefeated in meet freestyle competition.

"Once I did lose," Helene said before the operation, the old remembered smile returning to her wan face. "They put me in backstroke race against Eleanor Holm and I splashed half the water out of the pool and swallowed the rest. But -and she pointed proudly to a panel of medals on the wall—"I

Three Olympic gold medals testify to her greatness. At Los Angeles in 1932 she won the 100 meters, the 400 meters and shared a gold in the 400 relay-"and that's all the freestyle events there were."

In with the many medals on the panel, too, are the three shell casings from the gun that started her medal races.

Helen does not know the exact total of her American records. "Something over 100," she guessed. "One day I swam 500 yards and all along the pool the timers were marking off records. I set six that trip. I know I held them all, from 50 yards to both the U.S. and the metric

They called her "the girl who changed swimming to bookkeeping" and then forgot her, except on rare occasions. In 1960 she was named to the Washington State athletic Hall of Fame and in 1966 to the national swimming Hall of Fame.

Helene lives alone now in a basement apartment with her Siamese cat, Punky, and avoids mention of two unhappy mar-

There's Logic Behind Even Extreme Advice

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Some of the old-fashioned, puritanical practioners of thrift will be disturbed to learn what some financial counselors are preaching today:

Borrow on your life insurance. Don't pay off the mortgage in advance. Practice deficit spending in your youth. Speculate. Quit your job.

These are extremes, of course, and perhaps they apply mainly to inflationary times, which these are. But those who advise such courses do so out of a sense of responsibility and have some logic on their side.

Their suggestions arise out of a basic thesis which goes something like this:

In order to live efficiently with today's complex market place every person should have a financial plan. But a few do, and it costs them thousands of dollars in a lifetime as well as needlessly depriving them.

As a consequence of poor planning, low-income families ignore chances to improve their status, young people dissipate their energies and learn of their mistakes too late, and even wealthy families foolishly squander their assets.

Convinced that this need not be so, some colleges are showing more interest in teaching financial planning, not only in regular course but in summer sessions for high school and adult education teachers.

At the University of California, Dr. Lawrence W. Erickson directs such a course, one of 12 related courses in colleges throughout the country in which financial experts advise instructors in the arts of personal counseling.

Most people, Erickson believes, are impulse buyers. "Economists say man is a rational animal," he comments, "but he'd be better off if he really were.'

As a consequence of impulse purchases the consumer often drifts aimlessly and expensively, Erickson believes, satisfying himself with passing pleasures and perhaps a pile of trash and squandered assets.

By simply making a financial plan and following it, he teaches, many people would discover that rather than being trapped in a hopeless financial had many options available to

"Everyone has more flexibility than he realizes," says Erick-son. One aspect of this flexibility concept is that food bills could be cut in half, a dictate that few housewives are likely to accept from a professor.

To begin the plan, Erickson would make up a balance sheet of assets and obligations, set goals, determine how to get there, and then do the things that lead to the goal.

Although the fundamentals of thrift, self denial and a strict budget are stressed, some of the ideas sound like heresy.

"I would review my insurance and perhaps borrow on my life. Sure, why not? If I had an annuity polity I might decide instead on term insurance. At certain times term is best; when the children are growing, for ex-

The mortgage should be reviewed. "Anybody who pays off a mortgage in advance today would be foolish if he's paying a lower rate than currently exists. It might even be worth taking out a mortgage.

While recognizing that every situation is a distinct one, Erickson generalizes to the extent that he believes young people should practice deficit spending and hedge against their future.

Erickson reasons that "If you wait in this life until you have the money you'll never own anything." Buying power, he notes, reaches a peak late in life, a time when expenses very often are growing less.

Erickson cautions that a young investor cannot get emotional about the stock market. but that under certain conditions speculation might be wis-

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -Letter carrier William E. Cain, 24, was suspended Wednesday for not cutting his shoulderlength hair.

Cain became the first postman furloughed under an Aug. 1 Post Office rule requiring that hair and beards of postal employes be neatly trimmed.

Cain, who has worked as a mailman the past 11 months. said he planned to file a grievance against the postmaster, an action that could put his case before the postmaster general.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) - Joe Engressia, the blind student who whistled his way through long distance telephone circuits to place free calls around the nation, will be allowed to remain in school, it was announced Wednesday.

Although the telephone company did not want to prosecute, the 19-year-old Engressia was temporarily suspended from the University of South Florida.

Engressia, blind since birth, appealed, citing his "between an 'A' and 'B' average." He was allowed back but placed on probation until the end of the quarter in March. Also, he was ordered to pay $25 to "a worthy cause." Engressia said he made that much on calls by whistling to dial the numbers wanted.

To make the calls, Engressia whistled the area codes and the numbers—all at 2,600 cycles in perfect pitch.

Kazan Has His Own Best-Seller By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Film

makers dearly love the millionseller novel. Whether the movie version is good ("Rosemary's Baby") or bad ("Valley of the Dolls"), it usually does fine business because of the "presold" audience of book readers.

Elia Kazan is unique among film makers by having created his own presold best-seller. His "The Arrangement," proved an immense success, totalling sales of a million in hard-cover and three million in paperback. It was a phenomenal achievement for a man who had never had a book published until he was in his fifties.

Why did "The Arrangement" sell so well?

'It must have struck a note of sympathy with a helluva lot of readers," the author analyzes. He admitted also that the publishers Stein and Day did a rousing job of promotion and he himself hit the book-selling trail

'The first time I had gone out and sold anything and the last

Now Kazan is deeply involved in bringing "The Arrangement" to life on film. He is producing and directing his own script, with Kirk Douglas, Deborah Kerr, Faye Dunaway and Richard Boone as stars.

'It feels good," he said confidently between scenes at Warner Brothers-Seven Arts. "I think this can be an excellent picture, an important picture.

"Every day he comes in with new ideas to help the scenes. I myself am always changing the script; even though I wrote it, I treat it as though someone else had. Kirk and I discuss the scenes and where we disagree, we do it my way. But often I go along with his suggestions.'

Douglas is the second star to be cast as the adulterous ad man, Eddie Anderson, born Evangelos Arness. Earlier this year Marlon Brando was set for

'But as we got into the preparations, I noticed that Marlon was getting more and more distracted by his outside activities," said Kazan. "Then Martin Luther King was murdered and Marlon simply couldn't function. I suggested that he drop out of the picture, and he

The Brando drop-out postponed "The Arrangement" for six months, and Kazan feared he would have trouble re-establishing his zest for the project. But he used the recess to start another novel, and he found he was even more enthused about 'The Arrangement' when he

Last week that "awful pest" left for Vietnam. I never realized how much he meant to me until I had to say good-bye to him. All the petty squables suddenly seemed terribly unimportant. I felt ashamed of having been so impatient and stupid. I realize now he was a normal kid who enjoyed

Dear Sis: You told them and in a way I never could. Thank you dear.

Dear Ann Landers: Last month our beloved uncle died. He was laid out in the living room of his home, in front of the picture windows.

The following day he was taken 200 miles away to be buried in his wife's family cemetery. I have seen this cemetery and it is right in the middle of a cornfield. Nobody bothers to keep it up and it makes me sick to think of our loving kin out there in all those weeds and brambles.

Our whole family is upset about this and we wonder if there's anything we can do to get our dear uncle moved back of the creep.

Popular Vote Lead To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) - President-elect Nixon received 499,704 more popular votes than Hubert H. Humphrey in the Nov. 5 presidential election, complete official totals showed Wednesday.

Nixon received 31,770,237 votes, Humphrey had 31,270,533 and third-party nominee George C. Wallace had 9,897141. An assortment of other candidates received 239,910 votes.

Nixon got 43.40 per cent of the vote, Humphrey got 42.72 per cent and Wallace 13.53.

A record total of 73,177,821 votes were cast, compared with 70,913,673 votes cast in the 1964 presidential election. But it represented only 60.2 per cent of the estimated 121.5 million Americans of voting age.

The official totals from all 50 states and the District of Colum bia did not change the electoral vote totals, which show Nixon 302, Humphrey 191, Wallace 45.

The electors meet in their respective state capitals next Monday to cast their votes, which will be counted officially by a joint session of Congress on Jan. 6.

Besides the three major candidates, the official canvasses showed these totals for other candidates:

E. Harold Munn Sr., Prohibition party, 14,519; Eldridge Cleaver, Peace and Freedom party, 36,385, most of them from California; Henning Blomen, Socialist-Labor party, 52,588; Fred Halstead, Socialist Worker party, 41,300; Sen. Eugene J. Mc-Carthy, D-Minn., 25,858, mostly from California; Dick Gregory, New party, 47,097, more than half in New York; and Charlene Mitchell, Communist and Free Ballot parties, 1,075.

In addition, 1,480 votes were cast for the antiwar New party in three states where no presidential candidates were listed and 19,608 votes were cast for an assortment of other candidates, including New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and comedian Pat Paulsen.

Stubborn Blaze Destroys Local Downtown Business

Sedalia firemen were called to the downtown area early Thursday morning to fight a $50,000 blaze in the Downtowner Cafe building at Second and Lamine.

Both pumpers and the aerial truck answered the call at 3:20 a.m., then battled the stubborn blaze for about one hour before it was brought under control. Battling in a high wind, firemen used four hose lines to pump water into the front and sides of the building. The aerial ladder was used to gain access to the upper floor.

Fire Chief Emmett Vaught said the fire apparently broke out in the basement, ate its way to the first, or ground floor, then spread throughout the building. As the fire spread firemen had to knock out windows on the ground floor to prevent a possible explosion which might have blasted broken glass into the group of

There were no serious injuries. However, Chief Vaught said one of the firemen, Ed Clark, somehow suffered a smashed thumb and planned to see his doctor today.

dent-elect Nixon moved today to give his no-surprises, no-Democrats Cabinet unusual freedom in picking aides for top policy

Spending the day meeting with the 12 men he designated Wednesday night for the department secretaryships, Nixon told the group at the outset that he looks to them to seek out their own undersecretaries and assistant secretaries.

This development was reported to newsmen by Herbert G. Klein, the president-elect's director of communications.

Normally the president-elect himself exercises principal authority for deciding on recruits for top departmental posts. However, Klein said Nixon urged his Cabinet choice to take on the chore in consultation with himself and members of his prospective White House staff.

Nixon will have final say on choosing the men or women who will hold these top jobs since he must nominate them under his own signature.

"I can assure you these are strong men. They are compassionate men. They are good men," Nison said in an easygoing, informal manner as he announced the makeup of his official family Wednesday night before a national television-radio audience.

US, South Vietnamese Agree on New Proposals

South Vietnamese diplomats agreed today on new proposals for the Communists aimed at getting the Vietnam peace talks under way.

Chief U.S. negotiator W. Averell Harriman and South Vietnam's Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky conferred on what different procedures might be suggested to break the present deadlock on how to start the long awaited four-way parley.

'We are going to present the other side with some new proposals," an authorized U.S. delegation source quoted Harriman and Ky as saying after their 13/4 hour meeting.

The informant declined to disclose any details of the new allied approach but he acknowledged the main point at issue involves seating arrangements for the conference.

PARIS (AP) — Top U.S. and proposed a rectangular table or two long tables facing each other. This has not been accepted by the Hanoi delegation which has called for a square table, or four separate tables.

At issue is the symbolic importance attached to table shapes and numbers in view of the argument over the conference makeup. Hanoi sees it as a four-sided parley, with the Viet Cong National Liberation Front rating full status. The allies call it a two-sided conference, and refuse to recognize the NLF as a separate delegation.

The U.S. source said a meeting would be sought with the North Vietnamese to present the new plan.

Earlier in the day, U.S. negotiator Cyrus R. Vance conferred for 90 minutes with South Vietnam's delegation chief Pham Dang Lam.

Review Of Eligibility Emphasized *C. Kent Charles, Social

Security district manager in Sedalia, today urged everyone who is signed up for the doctor bill insurance part of Medicare to spend some time between now and the end of the year in reviewing their eligibility for reimbursement under the program

He said that this is most important for those older people who incurred expenses for covered medical services between Oct. 1, 1966, and Sept. 30, 1967. If a claim isn't made for reimbursement of these expenses by Dec. 31, 1968, it will not be possible to make a payment, he said. If expenses of the last three months in any year do not come up to the amount for the deductible, they can be carried over to the following year to reduce the deductible for that year.

The report on the first phase of study by a committee of the Sedalia Home Rule Commission is to be made at the commission meeting Jan. 8. This was brought out at a regular commission meeting Wednesday night at city hall.

The first report, which is a report on the type of government to be recommended, is one in a series of at least 19 such reports that will be made by a committee of commission members before the final city charter is drafted by the commission.

Neal Chapman, commission chairman, at the Wednesday meeting named 19 committees, each made up of three commission members, to study the various phases of forming a city charter. These phases include the type of police force needed, type of mayor, weak or strong, or if a city manager form of government is to be recommended, and all other phases to be included in the final charter.

Incidentally, the term "weak or strong mayor" form of government refers to the powers given the mayor, and not to the character of the man himself.

As each phase of study is completed, the report will be made to the commission. The commission has urged public attendance at the report meetings in giving anyone who has a suggestion, complaint or comment to make an opportunity to do so.

Copies of various city charters were passed out to commission members, to study and refer to in making their reports to the commission.

George Dugan, Jr., said the committees are so arranged that each member of the commission is on three or four different committees. He is on three, he said.

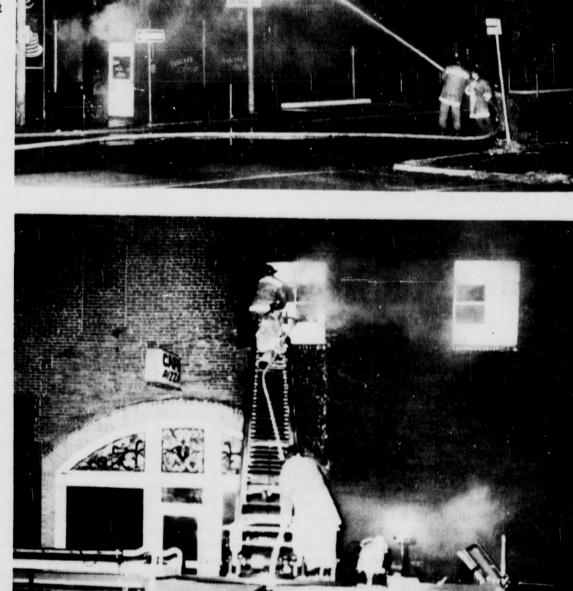

After the commission draws up the final charter, the document will be submitted to the public for acceptance or rejection. A simple majority of votes is needed for acceptance.

Increasing Opposition To Reorganization Plan

By RALPH JONES Democrat -Capital Staff Writer

Opposition to the Missouri School District Reorganization Commission's plan to establish regional school districts, as submitted to the State Board of Education, is growing in this

The opposition is indicated in numerous talks with legislators, educators and school board members throughout the area. Meetings are being held, letters are being written and talks are being made to inform the public of what foes see as shortcomings in the plan as submitted.

State Rep. James I. Spain-hower, Marshall, chairman of the reorganization commission, said the goal of the plan is to "provide equal access to educational opportunity for all Missouri children." The plan deals in particular with problems in Kansas City and St.

Shortly after the plan was announced Nov. 15, a meeting of a group calling themselves the Pettis County Citizens Organization, made up of school

In the first place, he said, the submission of the plan is an indication that local school boards as set up now are not capable of running their districts, thus the state board must step in and control the operation. Area school officials tend to be satisfied they can run their own affairs with a minimum of state participation,

Tipton Firm's Shares Bought

A.G. Spalding & Bros. Inc., a subsidiary of the Questor Corporation, today announced the purchase of all outstanding shares of capital stock of Fischer Manufacturing Company, Tipton, a familyowned manufacturer of the home and coin-operated billiard and pool tables. The purchase price was $4,500,000. Fischer's 1968 sales volume will be approximately $5,000,000 and net earnings will exceed $350,000, the report said. Edwin L. Parker, Spalding president, said billiard and pool tables and supplies are one of the fastest growing segments of the recreation industry, second only to outdoor winter sports equipment. "Fischer is recognized as one of the largest suppliers of coinoperated tables and its home or retail sales should receive a considerable boost through founder of the Tipton firm announced his withdrawal from active management of the firm. but said he would continue as consultant. Charles Bailey who has been deeply involved in day - to - day Fischer's management for several years, has accepted the position of president and general manager. No other management changes are anticipated.

According to Questor Board Chairman Paul Putman, and President P.M. Grieve, "the Fischer acquisition was one of three recent acquisitions by Questor subsidiaries that fall within the corporation's published program of broadening individual product groups for expanded market coverage.

Poor Have Ulcers, Too

Here's something to add to the current discussion about a phase of the war on poverty program related to the Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., in which city and county officials recently voted themselves out of, and may vote themselves back into, before another ulcer flare-up.

In a nationwide survey the Blue Cross Association has discovered that well-off, upper-middle-class persons who are supposed to have all the ulcer-inducing money worries do not have a corner on that malady.

The poor may actually suffer more from nervous tension than the affluent who are subject to demanding pressures from their jobs and social positions.

Nearly half of the poor people interviewed were plagued by worries over money, insecurity and health problems. In comparison, only one-third of the $10,000 or more salaried and college-educated persons reported unusual nervous tension.

Moreover the poor were found to have three times as much serious illness as the population as a whole, most common of which were tooth decay, failing eyesight or hearing - things which are little more than annoyances to the upper-middleclass, but major problems to the poor.

On the basis of this survey there may have to be some revision of the notion about the happy, healthy, care-free derelict sitting on a park bench sympathizing with the harried, ulcer-afflicted

There will be fewer ulcers among proponents and opponents of the poverty programs if the cards are laid on the table and the six-shooters kept in their holsters.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Crime Problem on Nixon Agenda

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON WASHINGTON — Probably the most important and immediate problem Richard Nixon will face after Jan. 20 will be the issue which he talked a great deal about during the campaign - crime in the streets; and with it, race relations. The problem has become more difficult because more than eighty per cent of the Negro vote went against Nixon, and the first Negro to be elected to the Senate in 100 years, Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., has now declined to serve in his cabinet.

Brooke's declination was based largely on the fact that he did not want to surrender a position of power and prestige in the United States Senate. However, events preceding Brooke's veto of a cabinet position illustrate the general skepticism of Negro moderates regarding the policies of the new Brooke himself was personally alarmed when, st October, Nixon delivered a speech in North Carolina stating that, while he would back the Supreme Court's 1954 desegregation decision, he would leave the methods of enforcement up to local communities. Federal funds, he indicated, would not be used as a weapon to enforce integration.

This is exactly what southern communities have argued for and what Negro leaders have argued against. Negroes claim that local white opposition to desegregation has held back anything but token integration in large parts of the south. They point out that 14 years have passed since the Supreme Court's historic decision and there is still no real desegregation in the south.

Sen. Brooke was in Boston at the time Nixon delivered his North Carolina speech, but he immediately sought an interview with the candidate and conveyed the view of Negro leaders.

Nixon replied that he had been misquoted. Sen. Brooke did not question this, and remained loyal to the Republican candidate throughout the campaign. However, he was the only prominent Negro who did. Whitney Young, head of the Urban League, even remarked that any Negro who didn't know which candidate to vote for "deserved slavery." Most of them did. The Negro vote went 89 per cent to Humphrey.

-Brooke Wavers-

Despite his official loyalty, however, Sen. Brooke has confided to close friends that he has been worried about Nixon's position on integration, and the very important part which Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., the leading Senate segregationist, is slated to play in picking Supreme Court justices and federal judges for the south. This has now been punctuated by the appointment of Sen. Thurmond's assistant, Harry Dent, to serve on the new White House staff. Furthermore, Nixon's statement to Sen. Brooke that he was misquoted in North Carolina does not seem to hold water. For Nixon made almost the same pledge to southern delegates in Miami Beach at the GOP convention. This meeting to seek southern support was behind closed doors. However, the Miami Herald had a tape recorder inside the room and published a verbatim text of what Nixon said. His most important promise to the southern delegates was exactly what Negroes, including Senator Brooke, object to most - namely, an attack on the federal courts for their enforcement of school desegregation.

Here is what Nixon said:

"That Takes Care of the Cabinet. Now What We Need Is Some of Those

'Now It Can Be Told' Authors."

By BRUCE BIOSSAT NEA Washington Correspondent

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (NEA) By early spring of 1969, Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss will have been replaced by a Nixon-picked successor, despite broad party leader sentiment revealed here for his retention.

Republican governors gathered here for their semiannual conference were nearly universal in their praise of Bliss as a skillful technician and organizer. Reports indicate that a sizable number of national committeemen, some of them present, feel the same way.

But the evidence is that President-elect Richard Nixon is absolutely unswayed by these expressions of support for Bliss and intends to have a chairman of his own choosing as soon as it is practicable to make the change.

Between the election and this conference, Nixon had not spoken one word to Bliss about his future, and it is not clear when he will. Bliss, meantime, has summoned the GOP National Committee to a meeting in Washington Jan. 17, just three days before Nixon's inauguration. It seems unlikely that the proposed change in the chairmanship will occur that early.

At Nixon's request, the scheduled meeting could be postponed. Or he could simply ask that a special one be held later to ratify his personal choice for the job

Nixon torces acknowledge that some damage to the party could occur if governors and others pressed their support for Bliss to the limit. But nothing any governor or other leader said here indicated a wish to push the matter that far. It is a recognized prerogative of a president to have his own chairman.

As this reporter has stated in earlier postelection accounts, Nixon is about to embark on perhaps the most ambitious party-rebuilding effort ever undertaken by a modern-day president.

He clearly was not impressed by 1968 results which brought the Republicans only four additional congressmen, five added senators and a pickup of 50-odd state legislators. Nor is he pleased that national opinion polls consistently show American voters indicating Democratic rather than Republican party identification by margins of Bliss told newsmen here that it is extremely difficult to lift the Republican end of that ratio by even a point or two. The Nixon people simply do not believe it and regard this as the kind of negative thinking which has handicapped the GOP in its long fight to regain majority party status in the nation.

Even as Republican governors boasted here of their new high total of 31 out of 50 and talked of improved party organization at the state and local level, Nixon forces pointed out that gains of this sort are not being translated into strength at the national level.

They say the new President will not be content until the party percentages favor the Republicans, until the GOP can win Congress by comfortable margins and until the party can elect a president on its own strengths rather than the Democrats' weaknesses.

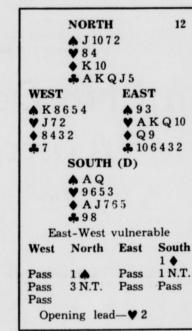

Nixon and his chief White House political assistant, John Sears, will manage this restoration effort, though plans also call for installing a new political technician at executive-director level in the National Committee hierarchy.

Notwithstanding argument from governors and others that the new President and the governors themselves give the party all the policy spokesmen it will need, Nixon is sticking by his plan to name a national chairman who will function heavily as a center-stage figure articulate and attractive enough to add important luster to the GOP. He wants that brightened image on constant display in Wash-

West had to discard on that second club but had no problem. He threw a spade and continued to throw them as the other high clubs were cashed.

Then South went after the diamonds. The king held the first trick, the queen fell to his ace next and the jack took the third but that was as far as South could go. West's eight-spot was high and the defenders took the rest of the tricks.

If Sammy had run off his four hearts to start, South would have made his con-tract. West would have been forced to discard a spade on the fourth heart. Then when the fourth high club was cashed, West would have had to jettison a diamond to hold the king of spades and South would have made four diamond tricks, not three.

decorations here you will notice that they are so small that if you want to see them you will have to get up close. Usually the lights will be burned out or the decoration will be loose from its frame. This is very pathetic because a town the size of Sedalia should have some type of decorations that are half way distinguishable.

The merchants of Sedalia wish to make this the shopping center of mid-Missouri, but the type and quality of Christmas decorations here don't give the shoppers the Christmas Spirit.

The decorations should not be just a project of the merchants but also of the city council. The cost of new decorations and repair of old ones should be a yearly cost appropriated by the council and merchants. One of the finest decorations in this area is maintained by one of Sedalia's largest industries. This is the 120 bulb cross on the Pittsburg Corning smoke stack.

Now let's see what we can do about getting more Christmas spirit through new and more elaborate Christmas decorations in the Sedalia area.

POLLY'S POINTERS Neighborly Coffee Break Has Its Pros and Cons

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY-I know what Dreading is going through getting up every morning dreading to hear the phone ring and her neighbor asking her over for coffee. Mine was a new neighbor, so I accepted the invitation a few times. Before it went too far, I made excuses (not little white lies but honest ones) like "I am washing clothes" or "I am baking cookies and must be finished before the children get home for lunch." After that, the phone did not ring so often in the morning and we are still friends.—MRS.

DEAR POLLY and DREADING-Many people would love to have your problem with the neighbor who invites you for coffee. The few minutes you spend with her each day would probably make her very happy—and perhaps you, too—if you approached it with a little different attitude. You need not stay long. You cause yourself more discomfort dreading the call than if you went. Being a good neighbor to one you say is a good friend could pay dividends. A good deed is like beauty as it is often in the mind and eye of the beholder. I do not remember who first said it but, "Live each day to the fullest, it may be your last."—M. H.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ethel Kennedy, widow of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, gave birth today to her 11th child-an eight-pound, four-ounce girl. The child was delivered at Georgetown University Hospital by Caeserean section at 8:40 a.m. Mrs. Kennedy has three other girls and seven boys ranging in age from 18 months to 17 vears Her husband, the junior senator from New York, was assassinated in June in Los Angeles shortly after winning the California Democratic presidential primary

Accidents A two-car accident occurred in the 200 block of South Osage at 10:38 a.m. Thursday. Involved wre parked 1966 Oldsmobile owned by Sam E. Ross, 71. 320 South Beacon, and a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Pauline Alma Dueber, 65, Route 1, Cole Camp.

Damage was to the right rear of the Oldsmobile.

Police Report

A maroon 1962 Chevrolet bearing Missouri license No. XTO-165 and owned by B. J. McMillian, Route 1, Green Ridge, was stolen in Sedalia sometime Thursday. McMillian reported to police that a Homelite chain saw, a shotgun and some clothes were in the Eddie Wise, owner of Wise Farm Equipment Co., 1309 North Grand, reported to Sedalia police at 4:11 p.m. Wednesday that diesel parts valued at $2,000 had been stolen from the building.

According to the police report, Wise stated that he had been in the building on several prior occasions, but that on Dec. 11th he found the parts on the south side of the building by knocking out a door panel. Sheriff and police officers are continuing the investigation.

Seven reports of vandalism to Christmas decorations were made to Sedalia police between 4 p.m. Wednesday and 9:25 a.m. Thursday. In one instance, 45 lights were taken from lawn decorations, a string of lights pulled from a tree, and some bulbs were smashed against the steps of a home and some others scattered across a lawn.

Police said that this type of vandalism is common at this time of the year since the targets are usually unprotected.

A 1959 Ford owned by Jack Leet was damaged Wednesday night by a tree limb while it was parked at 520 South Lafayette. The rear window and the trunk deck of the car were damaged when the tree limb fell on the three-county board could all be from Sedalia, or Warrensburg. The 12-man boards would set up their districts as they see fit, under nine-man boards, each sub-district containing a minimum of 1,200 pupils. The division plan would be submitted to the voters, twice, and if the voters in the district disapproved of the plan, the state board could step in and form the sub-districts to suit themselves. Again this is an unpopular possibility. The 12-man board would have the power to levy taxes without a vote of the people, and issue building bonds or school site acquisition bonds without a vote of the people. This is taxation without representation, according to the

In relation to Kansas City and St. Louis, it was pointed out at the Sedalia meeting that it appears the metropolitan residents with large amounts of money are moving out of the heavily-populated districts into suburban areas, leaving the heavily-populated areas with reduced assessed valuation, thus a higher tax levy, sometimes $5 or $6 per $100 assessed valuation, compared to some $3 per $100 assessed valuation in lightly populated
